Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Conveyancing Legal Assistant role because my time in the Real Estate Disputes team at BCLP gave me direct exposure to residential and commercial property matters, and I am looking to build on that foundation in a practice focused on conveyancing.

During my six months in BCLP's Real Estate Disputes team I supported several live property matters simultaneously, each at different stages and with competing deadlines. My work included reviewing title documents and lease agreements, preparing electronic hearing bundles, maintaining matter records on iManage, and assisting with court filings and administrative arrangements around hearings. Managing that volume across multiple files meant keeping case records consistently accurate and flagging anything time-sensitive without being prompted. The organisational demands of that environment are directly comparable to keeping a busy residential property caseload on track, which is what this role requires.

At Citizens Advice I now handle property and housing matters as part of a general caseload. I take detailed client instructions, identify the relevant legal and procedural issues, draft correspondence, prepare document schedules and maintain confidential case records from first contact through to resolution. Working with clients who are often anxious or unfamiliar with legal processes has made me careful about translating procedural requirements into language that is clear and practical, which matters in a conveyancing context where clients are frequently going through one of the more stressful transactions of their lives.

I am drawn to this role because conveyancing work rewards exactly the combination of procedural accuracy, deadline discipline and clear client communication that my background has developed. The Kent location also suits me geographically. I am confident I could support the team's caseload effectively from the outset and would welcome the opportunity to develop a deeper specialism in residential property work.

Yours sincerely,

Maria Silva
