Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Private Client Paralegal role at your Wokingham office, as advertised through G2 Legal. I am drawn to the firm's Legal 500 and Chambers-ranked reputation and to a role that has arisen as part of long-term succession planning — the kind of environment where building genuine expertise matters.

My background combines formal legal training with hands-on client-facing experience across a range of practice areas that translate directly into private client work. At Citizens Advice East Berkshire, I advise clients daily on welfare benefits, housing, family and debt matters — taking detailed factual statements, identifying the legal and evidential issues, and translating complex rules into clear, practical guidance for vulnerable individuals. Managing matters from instruction through to submission, including drafting correspondence, preparing document schedules and meeting deadlines, is core to my current role.

Prior to that, at Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner I spent a year embedded in disputes teams, where I prepared hearing bundles, assisted with court filings, maintained structured case files across competing deadlines and supported partners and associates through significant procedural milestones. The feedback I received — that my performance was comparable to a newly qualified solicitor — reflected the level of responsibility I was given and took seriously.

I also have experience advising on data protection and confidentiality matters, both at Q-Legal and during my internship at Adobe, which required careful attention to sensitive personal information and clear written communication to clients and stakeholders.

What links these experiences is a consistent focus on client service, accuracy and organised case management — qualities I understand to be central to exceptional private client practice. I am based in the area and am genuinely committed to building a career in this field.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my experience fits the team's needs.

Yours sincerely,
Maria Fernanda Silva
