Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Residential Conveyancing Legal Assistant role advertised through Reed, based in Newbury. I bring a year of hands-on legal support experience at Bryan Cave Leighton Paisner, alongside ongoing client-facing advisory work, and I am keen to direct that foundation into a conveyancing environment.

At BCLP, my six-month Real Estate Disputes rotation gave me direct exposure to property-related legal work: I prepared electronic hearing bundles, assisted with skeleton arguments and court materials, conducted legal and factual research on easements, rights of light, leasehold issues and landlord and tenant disputes, and maintained matter records through iManage. I managed confidential documents across several concurrent matters with competing deadlines, and assisted with court filings, hearing logistics and matter opening and closure. That experience gave me a strong grounding in how property matters are structured and administered, and in the precision that transactional and dispute work requires.

In my current role at Citizens Advice East Berkshire, I manage cases from initial instruction through to submission: drafting correspondence, preparing document schedules, maintaining confidential case records and meeting firm deadlines. I regularly advise clients on procedural requirements and translate complex rules into clear, practical guidance — including on housing and landlord-related matters — so I am comfortable handling client communication with care and accuracy from day one.

I am organised, detail-conscious and experienced in managing a busy caseload with competing priorities. I am also familiar with case management and document management systems, electronic bundling tools and legal research databases, which I expect to transfer readily into a conveyancing workflow.

The opportunity to join a well-established, high-performing residential property team and develop a conveyancing specialism is exactly the direction I am looking to take my career. I would welcome the chance to discuss how my background fits the role.

Yours faithfully,
Maria Silva
